Fire danger is LOW. Rain arrived on Sunday and has continued off and on until this morning. 2-day rainfall amounts from the Vermont RAWS are:

NUL	0.77
ESS	0.64
ELM	0.71
DAN	0.58
WOOD	0.7

This unsettled weather pattern is expected to continue for much of the week and in the next few day, temperatures are expected to warm up. With the damp conditions and warmer air, greening is likely to accelerate. Fire danger is likely to remain low to moderate for the next several days.
